

I think it is wrong to weaken the no call list laws that are currently on the books. There are too many loopholes as it is.